UMATILLA RESERVATION.

Has Been in the Indian Service 12 Years, First Appointed by Presi-Done Business-Has Never Before Seen the Umatillas.

John J. McKoin, recently appointed superintendent of the Umatilla Indian agency and school, arrived in Pendleton this morning from Siletz reservation, where he has been sta-tioned. He went out to the agency this afternoon

"I have never been on the Umatil-la reservation," said the new agent, "and I will wait until I go over the grounds and the present situation before forming my future plans,"

McKoin has been in the Indian service for 12 years. He received his first appointment under President Harrison in 1892, and was stationed at Quapaw, J. T. His next post was at Albuquerque, N. M. Later he was assigned to Fort Mojave and from there came to Siletz.

During his stay at the Siletz reservation in Southwestern Oregon, Mr. McKein did much toward improving the lot and condition of the Indians under his care. Very few, if any, of the Siletz Indians wear blankets or long hair, but follow the customs of the whites. They are thrifty and industrious, conducting farms, garden-ing and small shops. Many of them are well-to-do. With the Umatilias, Mr. McKoin has an entirely different class of Indians to deal with.

PENDLETON'S GAME.

High School Won Out Over the Whit-
